➤ Intiger client, ipac Western Australia, part owned by Intiger director Patrick Canion, wins the Financial Planning Association Professional Practice of the Year Award.

BACKGROUND

The directors of Intiger Group Limited (IAM) (Intiger or the Company) are pleased to advise on the success of one of its earliest clients, ipac Western Australia (ipac), in winning the Financial Planning Association (FPA) Professional Practice of the Year Award. ipac Western Australia is part owned by Intiger director Patrick Canion. This represents a significant achievement with over 300 professional practices in Australia of which 60 professional practices were considered for the Professional Practice of the Year Award. Ipac was hailed as an entrepreneurial leader in the provision of financial advice for its advanced use of technology and its approach to event marketing. The practice was also acknowledged for its commitment to staff development, charity and community involvement.

The use of the Intiger Group's offshore processing platforms in India & Manila & proprietary software LILLY and KLIP (Services) within the ipac business has been integral in achieving its success as a professional practice.

CEO of ipac WA & Certified Financial Planner, Patrick Canion said "Over two years ago, we engaged with Intiger for their quality back-office processing and support. Not only did this save us money, it allowed us to refocus our business so that our team members spent more time with our clients, more time providing quality financial advice. At the same time, our compliance and back-office were improved through the discipline and clarity we brought to our administration. Using Intiger has done more than just saved us money and made life more pleasant: it allowed us to transform ourselves into a nimble practice that is responsive to our clients and to the market. We could not have done it without Intiger"

Managing Director of Intiger Group Ltd, Mark Fisher said "We congratulate ipac Western Australia on this deserved recognition. Our vision is to work closely with financial planners and their licensees to help more Australian get quality financial advice. We have worked closely with ipac WA over the past 2 years to make their already excellent business even more efficient and compliant. This has freed them to spend more time with their clients and marketing their services to the community in ever more innovative ways. The results speak for themselves."
